

Conquizardor aims for world domination

LA-based format broker Small World IFT has bagged two new deals for its online/board game turned TV quiz format Conquizardor.

The format, based on a popular Hungarian strategy game, requires contestants to answer questions to allow them to conquer each other's territories and battle for cash prizes.

Small World IFT president Tim Crescenti said the company has recently signed deals for the format in Greece and Nigeria, and is in talks in Spain.

In Greece, Conquizardor has been optioned for Studio ATA, which has also optioned Small World's Big in Japan there.
