

AXN preps all-dancing food show

Sony-owned cable network AXN has commissioned a series that combines drama, music and cookery for its Asian feed.

The Kitchen Musical (13x60'), from The Group Entertainment, will premiere in 22 Asian countries in October.

Each episode is set in a famous restaurant and will showcase re-recorded popular hit songs and dance sequences choreographed by Jason Coleman, judge of Australia's So You Think You Can Dance.

Principal photography for The Kitchen Musical is set to start in Singapore this week.

AXN is an English-language general entertainment channel that started in Asia, where it is available in 22 countries, and has since expanded into 60 territories globally, including Latin America and Europe.
